

The Look of Literacy
in the
South Western School District
2005-2006
activities calendar

This year’s calendar focuses on the many aspects of literacy that are developed through our curriculum here at South Western. Literacy development takes place in all classes through the reading, writing, listening and speaking experiences our students have during their K – 12 school career. Children in kindergarten through second grade spend a minimum of two hours each day on literacy activities. Students in Grades 3 – 8 spend at least 90 minutes each day in literacy instruction. At the high school level, all students are required to take 4.5 credits of language arts in order to graduate. Four of these credits are in English grammar, writing, and literature study; a half credit is earned for a speech class that all students take during their senior year. It is our goal to have all students graduate with the ability to read and communicate well.

Dr. Jil Manga, our Language Arts Supervisor, has been instrumental in coordinating our district’s language arts program for the past 17 years. Most South Western students know Dr. Manga as “The Book Lady.”

Guided Reading

Guided reading groups are an important part of reading instruction in the elementary grades. During guided reading, the teacher guides a small group of students through the reading process using materials at the students' reading level.

Making Words

By manipulating individual letter cards, students develop a better understanding of the relationship between letters and the sounds they make. When they combine letters in a variety of combinations, students begin to see word patterns or word “families” which helps to build their word identification skills.

Independent Reading

Having time to read books and materials of their own choice is an important part of being a reader.

Our school libraries provide wonderful fiction and nonfiction books for students to enjoy reading on their own.

Reading Aloud

Research has shown that reading aloud impacts students' academic achievement as well as their reading skills and interest in reading. Being read to helps children build their vocabulary, make predictions, develop comprehension, and learn the structure of fiction and nonfiction texts. These students from the South Western preschool are enjoying hearing a story read to them by a high school student.

Sustained Silent Reading
Sustained Silent Reading, or SSR, gives students time for independent reading in materials of their choice. The book boxes pictured in the background of this photograph contain books that have been categorized according to their level of difficulty and organized so that students can easily find books on their reading level for classroom SSR time.

Writing Process

Students at all levels use the strategies of pre-writing, drafting, revising, editing, and publishing to produce pieces of writing in a variety of subject areas. Elementary students especially enjoy sharing the books they have written with their classmates.

NONDISCRIMINATION POLICY - It is the policy of South Western School District not to discriminate on the basis of sex, creed, handicap, or race in its educational programs, activities, or employment policies as required by Title IX of the 1972 Educational Amendment and by section 504 of the Rehabilitation Act of 1973.

The South Western School District is dedicated to providing a continually improving educational environment, through a cooperative effort with the family and the entire community, in which all students are encouraged and expected to achieve their full potential, to express themselves clearly, to think reflectively, and to interact responsibly in preparation for lifelong personal growth.

Adopted October 24, 1990

Revised March 25, 2002

Our Beliefs

- All students are unique, can be successful and are entitled to a quality education that will help each to reach his or her greatest potential.
- Quality education requires the cooperation and support of students, parents, staff, and the community.
- Responsible behavior is nurtured in a learning environment that provides opportunities for students to make and be held accountable for their decisions.
- Quality education provides a myriad of learning opportunities that helps each student develop confidence, teamwork, and compassion for others.
- The school environment must always be safe and promote the ideals of respect for others, a strong work ethic, and self-discipline.
- The utilization of new methodologies and technologies is essential to providing students a quality education in a constantly changing world.
- Effective teaching addresses individual differences, promotes self-esteem, and encourages students to maximize education opportunities.

Adopted September 25, 1996
